UW-LA CROSSE WINS SIXTH NCGA NATIONAL TEAM CHAMPIONSHIP

UW-La Crosse won their sixth National Collegiate Gymnastics Association (NCGA) title Friday, March 23 at Johnson Fieldhouse at UW-Stout in Menomonie, Wis. While the Eagles captured no individual top spots in the first night of competition, they did advance eight competitors into the individual event championship round Saturday, March 24. The top 12 finishers from the first night advance to the championship round.

Freshman Melissa Stanton of Hamline University captured the all-around title, scoring a 37.20, outpacing second place Kristan Turner of SUNY-Cortland, who scored a 36.875. The top 10 all-around finishers are named NCGA All-America.

Rounding out the top 10 all-arounders are Christina Ng (Ursinus College), Jenny Moore (UW-La Crosse), Molly Nemes (Gustavus Adolphus), Kristy Arquette (UW-Oshkosh), Becky McDonnell (UW-La Crosse), Tasha Pasch (UW-Stout), Sarah Reeb (UW-Oshkosh), and Katie Hanson (UW-Stout).

Christina Ng (Ursinus) will come into the top spot on the balance beam (9.725), Molly Nemes (Gustavus) was tops on the floor (9.525), Melissa Stanton (Hamline) was tops in the uneven bars (9.45) and Melissa Cummins (UW-Oshkosh) was first on the vault (9.325).

The second day of competition will get underway at 1:30 p.m.
