

Who should attend, why and what to expect

Who should attend?

- All faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend the listening sessions.

Why should you attend?

- To provide input on the goals that should be established for FOCUS 2015
- To listen to the “big ideas” for Stout generated by the 85 attendees at the summer 2008 Visioning Session
- To learn more about Stout’s comprehensive planning process
- To learn about the major accomplishments from Stout’s FOCUS 2010 planning process

What to expect

- Each listening session is attended by the Chancellor, as well as the members of the Strategic Planning Group.
- The Chancellor will provide a 10-15 minute presentation on the major accomplishments from FOCUS 2010, as well as an overview of the “big ideas” for Stout generated by the 85 attendees at the summer 2008 Visioning Session.
- There will be an additional hour available for attendees to react to the big ideas, suggest additional considerations for FOCUS 2015, and to ask questions about the presentation and the planning process.
- All comments will be written on a flip chart, typed, examined by the Chancellor’s Advisory Council and appropriate committees, and used to generate the FOCUS 2015 goals.
